Testimonial Slated for Romeo Borgatti

On Thursday, Oct. 26th, the citizens of the Town of Agawam will host a Testimonial Dinner in honor of Police Chief Romeo Borgatti on the occasion of his retirement from office following 32 years of outstanding public service.

The affair will be held at Chez Josef, 176 Shoemaker Lane, Agawam, with a social hour at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30, and the program at 8:30. Stanley Chmielewski, newly-appointed Chief of the Agawam Police Department, is serving as the general chairman for the event, along with the following executive committee members: Dante Mutti, Raymond Pieczarka, John Beltrandi, Vincent Perotta, John Chriscola, Joseph Dahdah, James Martone, Marion M. White, and Vincent Caroleo.

Among the dignitaries expected to attend are U. S. Senator Edward Brooke, Congressman Edward Boland, Congressman Silvio

Conte, Attorney General Francis Bellotti, State Senator Alan Sisitsky, Hampden County Sheriff Michael Ashe, and Representative Edward Connelly.

In extending a warm invitation to the citizens of Agawam to join in this tribute to Former Chief Borgatti, Chmielewski advises that tickets for the affair are available from members of the General Committee and several Agawam business establishments.

Impact 57: Southwick Prepares For Change

by Linda McQuade

Southwick-The new Route 57 will, in all likelihood, have an effect on Southwick, and town officials have vowed to be prepared.

In an informational meeting sponsored by the Men's Club of the Congregational Church, the impact of the new route was discussed by Selectmen Nuchi Prifti and John Zanolli and Planning Board Member Arthur Driscoll. State Rep. Edward Connelly also attended.

"I view the new Route 57 as a Trojan horse, something Southwick has to approach very cautiously," Zanolli said. "We have to expect growth, but we must be prepared. Southwick is a basically residential community and we must grow at our own rate, not a rate determined by a developer."

Zanolli cited the need for a growth policy formed in conjunction with zoning laws. "When a town grows, more of the basic services such as police, fire, ambulance and schools must be provided. Development and growth go hand in hand with tax increases. The new Route 57 will come to Southwick someday and we must be prepared."

Planning Board member Driscoll said that highways, like sewage and water systems, are "growth shapers," but also said that the impact of Route 57 on Southwick will be hard to assess.

"I don't anticipate Southwick will be initially harmed by Route 57," Driscoll said. "Route 57 will not open any new land for development, but because it will reduce travel time to Springfield, it could act as a catalyst for building on the available lots."

Driscoll said Southwick's zoning laws were "pretty good." "We can't shut off development, but we do want to be able to control it."

He called for all town departments to work together "as a unit" and coordinate the zoning laws with internal highway development, water department planning and industry projections. He also noted the need to preserve the farms and open spaces.

Prifti said the new Route 57 cutoff was proposed in 1959 because then Governor John Volpe felt the southwest corner of Massachusetts had potential and should be developed.

From 1960 to 1962, the section from the south end bridge to Agawam High School was completed, Prifti said, and feeling was strong that the improvements should continue into Southwick.

He said that in 1971, a study was done which proposed a new route through Agawam and to Hillside Road in Southwick, but public interest was lacking and there was

'Outstanding Athlete' Awards To Be Presented

The Agawam Advertiser/News and the Agawam Athletic Association have joined together to recognize outstanding athletes from our High School sports teams. Recipients of this award are members of those high school sports that the Association sponsors now or has sponsored in the past. The sport teams are as follows: Fall...football, boys and girls soccer and girls swimming. Winter...boys and girls basketball, boys swimming and wrestling. Spring...softball, baseball and track for boys and girls. All recipients will be seniors. The selection of the winners will be made by you, the fans. Any adult town resident may cast a ballot-this will include senior high students also. No one may vote more than one time for each sport. Each person voting will be asked to fill in the following on each ballot: Name, Address, Age, and Telephone Number. Also, each voter must state that they have seen the individual for whom they are voting, participate in at least one athletic contest.

The October 24th edition of this newspaper will carry the first ballot. The ballot will be located in the sports section. Subsequent editions will carry ballots for the purpose of selecting the winners of the 'Fall Sports' category thru November. Tabulation of all ballots will be handled by the staff of the Agawam Advertiser/News. Ballots may be dropped off or mailed to the office at 391 Springfield Street, Agawam, Ma. 01001.

Those selected will be presented with a plaque jointly by the AAA and the Advertiser/News in January.

The purpose of the awards is twofold: (1) to increase community interest in the high school athletic program, and (2) to recognize the individual talents of our amateur athletics. A sample of the award can be seen in the window of the Advertiser/News at 391 Springfield, St., Agawam.

Free Firewood for Agawam Residents

Any Agawam resident interested in obtaining free firewood can do so by registering at the Town of Agawam CETA office located in the rear annex building of the Town Hall.

Each Agawam resident will be given a trunk-full, or, in the event of a station wagon or truck being used, a total of 20 pieces.

Registration days will be on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 16th and 17th from 8:30 to 4:00 and each week on the same days until all of the firewood is gone.

Pick up dates for the wood will be each Saturday from 7 to 3:00 at the rear Town Hall parking lot. This firewood will be cut to approximately 3-foot lengths.

Protect Your Child-Immunize

Immunizations have long been a necessary part of the process of starting school. We all remember the smallpox vaccination required long ago. Now, smallpox has been virtually wiped out and is no longer a disease we have to be concerned with. The smallpox vaccination is not required now to attend school. The Public Health Department is mainly responsible for this happening.

If smallpox can become a health problem no longer through vaccination, then the possibility exists that other equally threatening diseases can also be prevented through the use of vaccine. Those vaccines for measles, polio, and diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus are available now. These childhood diseases and their many life-threatening complications can be avoided. Should all children receive the needed vaccines, they would be protected from these dreaded diseases for most of their school years, and in many cases, the vaccines are effective for a life time.

The Public Health Department is attempting to put these childhood diseases in the same category that smallpox now occupies. That of non-existence!

had experience as an English teacher, director of guidance, and is currently principal of Maynard High School, Maynard, Mass. He graduated from Boston University and completed his graduate work at BU and Northeastern University.

Our Feathered Friends

by Mary Os

If last week's column inspired you to erect and stock a wild bird feeding station, you have probably been discovered by some of our more adventurous friends. As of yesterday only Blue Jays had been venturing over to my back porch station. Then this morning, as if by design, the feeder was visited by three Tufted Titmice, some Chickadees, and a male Nuthatch. If your feeder hasn't been discovered yet, don't despair. It will be.

As more and more visitors avail themselves of your hospitality, you will want to be able to identify and name them correctly. An indispensable aid to the bird watcher is a good field guide. Read the introduction and become familiar with the topography of birds. Describing species accurately is essential to their proper identification. Three guides of excellent quality are The Audubon Society Field Guide to North American Birds (Alfred Knopf publisher), A Field Guide to the Birds (Houghton Mifflin Co. publisher), and Birds of North America (Golden Press publisher). The Audubon guide illustrates individual species through high quality photographs, while the other two use paintings. Either of these guides will suit your purpose.

Not so essential to the arm chair birder is a pair of binoculars. If you intend to take to the field for additional watching, you will definitely want them. Otherwise, consider well before investing.

Place paper and pen near your viewing area. When an interesting visitor appears, jot down the things you want to remember as you observe the bird. Hopefully, he will remain at the station until you can identify him. If not, he will probable return. What should you be noting on your pad? Basically there are five things to look for.

1. Color and field marks. Does the bird appear to be all one color? At first glance he may, but look carefully. Are there distinguishing marks such as wing patches, eye rings, a crest, or wing bars? Note the bill. Is it straight, curved, long, short? Is the tail stubby, long, rounded, forked? If something strikes you about the bird, write it down.

2. Size. Is the bird more the size of a sparrow or a pigeon? Learn to judge relative size.

3. Activity. Does the bird appear to be alone, one of a pair, or in a flock? Is it eating at the feeder or foraging near the base? Does it appear to hop, walk, creep, hang upside down? Is it interested in the suet feeder?

4. Flight pattern. Does the bird seem to soar or to flap? Does he fly in a straight line or lift up and down as he approaches? How are the wings held in flight?

5. Song or call. Listen for the bird's call. Some are very distinctive even to the neophyte birder. With some experience, you will be able to tell who has arrived at the feeder without even looking.

Gather as much information about the bird as you can then go to your field guide. Most guides illustrate the adult male only unless he is significantly different from the female or the immatures. In a short while, you will know many species and become adept at identifying those that are not familiar to you.

Tips on Bulb Planting for Blossoms Year After Year!

You can grow bulb flowers just about anywhere the sun shines. Simply plant them properly in the fall and they will burst triumphantly into bloom each spring for years.

Follow these instructions, based on the latest university research, to ensure that your bulbs live as long and bloom as bright as Nature intended.

PREPARING THE SOIL

It is possible to simply dig a hole, stick a bulb in it, and cover it over. For years, this was a standard procedure. However, your bulbs will be healthier if you prepare the entire planting area by loosening the soil to a depth of 10 to 12 inches. This makes it easier for tender roots to penetrate the soil, and it also improves drainage—an important factor in bulb growing.

Bulbs need oxygen as well as water around their roots and, if soil is soggy or waterlogged, they can literally drown. To improve drainage add peat moss, sand or vermiculite.

Before planting the bulbs, mix bone meal or other fertilizer rich in calcium, phosphorus and magnesium into the soil.

Without some added fertilizer, soil quickly becomes depleted of the nutrients necessary for continuing healthy growth.

PLANTING-WATERING

For many years, experts recommended that bulbs be planted three to four inches deep. In most years and most areas, this proved sufficient, however, during especially severe winters and in areas where winters are long, the soil may freeze hard to a greater depth. Therefore, bulbs should be planted deeper.

Set bulbs firmly in place, with the pointed ends up. Plant tulips, hyacinths, daffodils and other large bulbs with tips about six to eight inches deep and about five or six inches apart.

Plant smaller bulbs, such as crocus and muscari, four or five inches deep and about three inches apart. Fill the bed halfway with prepared soil, and water thoroughly. (This provides ample moisture directly around the bulb, settles soil and prevents air pockets.) Then add the remaining soil, and cover with a 3 to 4-inch deep layer of protective mulch—leaves, hay, straw or bark—and water again.

Water the entire bed regularly until the first frost appears.

Mulches serve a variety of functions but most important is the stabilization of ground temperatures. They protect the bulbs from cold in northern areas and from excessive heat in the south. They further help to retain sufficient moisture during dry spells.

In very cold areas, a deeper layer of mulch should be added in the fall and removed in the early spring before the bulbs begin to grow.

SPRING CARE

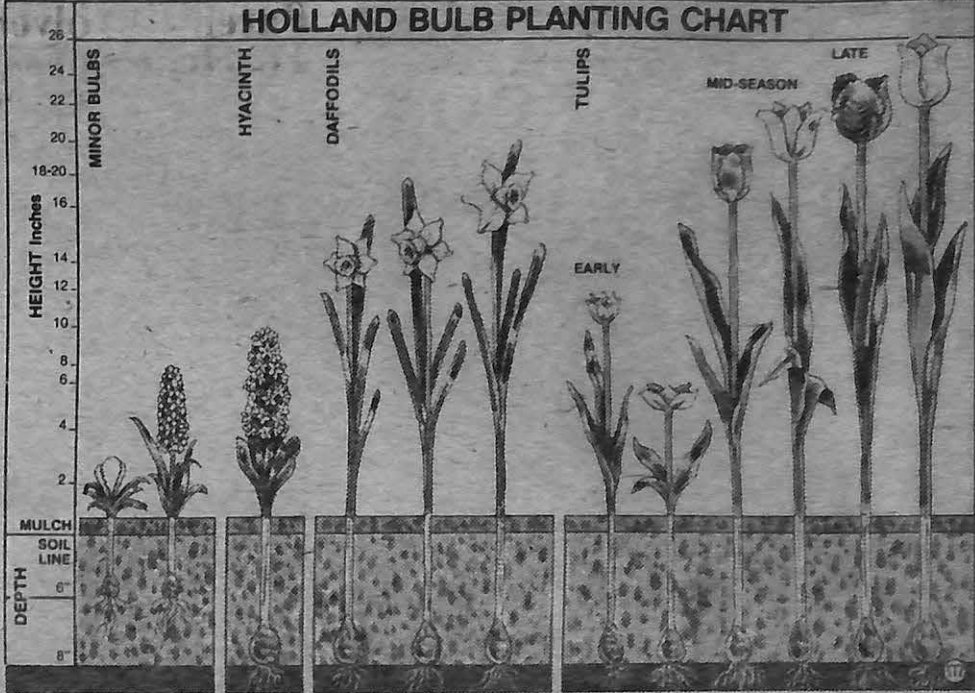

When the first green shoots appear in the spring, feed the bulbs with a regular 12-12-12 fertilizer. This insures an adequate supply of nitrogen and potassium when your bulbs need it most: just before, during, and immediately after flowering.

As a precaution, it is wise to spray the plants once or twice during the growing season with an approved fungicide to protect them from diseases.

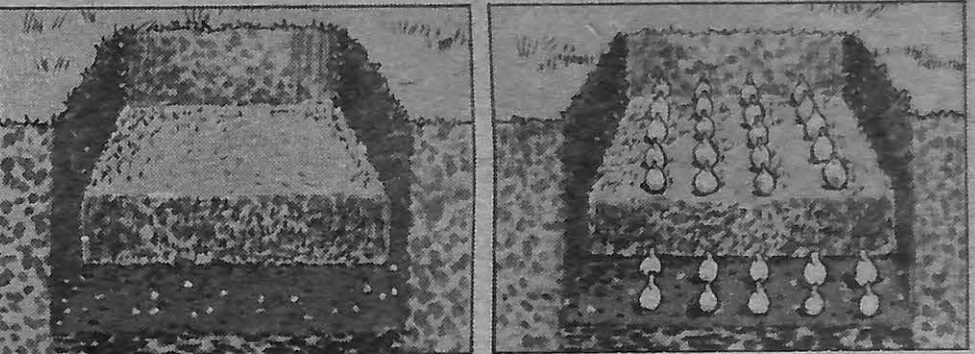

AFTER FLOWERING

Once blooms have faded, remove them from the plants, but allow the foliage to grow until it turns yellow. During this period the plants are building new bulbs and storing up food for next year.

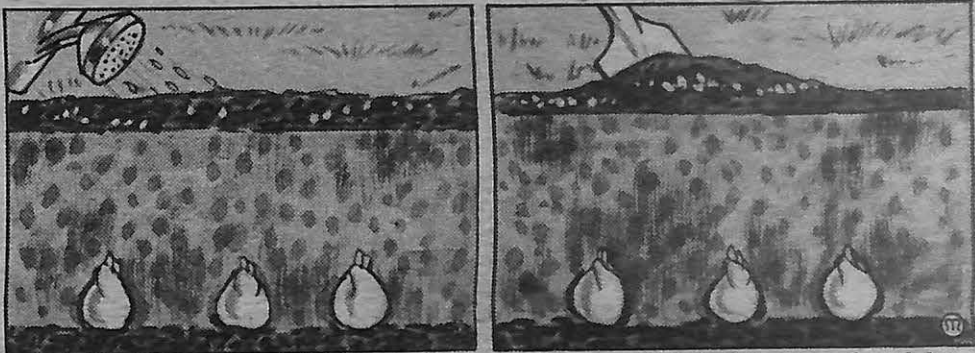

These cultural instructions require a little extra effort, but ultimately they will save both work and money.

THIS CHART SHOWS THE MINIMUM FALL PLANTING DEPTHS for spring flowering bulbs, and their blooming sequence and heights. Exact heights depend on local climates.

1. Dig an area large enough for an entire cluster of bulbs. Loosen soil 10 to 12 inches deep to improve drainage. Fertilize.
2. Plant top-quality bulbs firmly with pointed ends up. Set small bulbs 4 inches deep and large bulbs 6 inches measured from the tips.

3. Replace the soil, then water. Keep watering regularly throughout the fall until frost sets in.
4. Cover with 3 to 4 inches of mulch to insulate bulbs from severe cold in the north and heat in the south.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

Additional major flooding from heavy monsoon rains within the past few days has caused the continuing flood disaster in India to assume awesome and unprecedented proportions, and CARE must appeal to the people of New England for expanded emergency donations to help fund our relief efforts.

Record-level flooding during the past several weeks has left an estimated 55-60 million people homeless throughout northern and central India, and damage to crops and property has soared into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Food, clothing, shelter and medical aid are priority human needs which must be provided to these homeless millions, and CARE workers are on the scene carrying out this task around the clock.

CARE has already provided more than two million pounds of food and more than $300,000 worth of shelter materials and clothing, and this effort expands daily as additional needs become known.

Massive emergency aid is required now, and large-scale reconstruction and rehabilitation will be needed long after this disaster fades from the headlines. CARE is committed to both of these tasks.

We appeal to the people of New England for their generous financial support during this critical time. Cash, Checks, or money orders may be sent to: CARE-India Flood Fund, 581 Boylston Street, Boston, MA. 02116.

Sincerely,
Leon M. Blum
New England Director of CARE

You've probably read the announcement on the front page concerning the 'Outstanding Athlete' Awards. We are proud to be a part of this endeavor, and feel that a little individual recognition for our high school athletes is in order. We hope that you will all participate by getting out to a sporting event and casting your ballots. Ballots will appear in this newspaper during the latter part of October. We need everyone's participation to make the event a success.

Our new office, although not officially open yet, has been one of the busiest places in town. The renovation work we've been doing is almost complete, and very soon now we will be inviting you to stop in and take a look around.

I don't like to keep harping on a subject, but this particular subject happens to be my family's bread and butter-the cost of this newspaper. The Agawam Advertiser/News is a FREE newspaper, but only free in that you do not have to pay for home delivery. That's the way it is, and that's the way we would like it to remain. Our advertising and our advertisers pay so that you can have a hometown newspaper to keep you in touch with your neighbors. You and I both owe the advertisers a 'thank you'. You can show them your appreciation by patronizing their establishments. Tell them you saw their ad in the Advertiser/News and that you appreciate their support. If your merchants don't advertise with us regularly, please ask them to start - this especially holds true for you folks in the Southwick area. Getting our newspaper established in your town has taken a great deal of effort on the part of all concerned, however, we must now look to your local merchants for support to enable us to deliver your newspaper to you without cost. Let the merchants know that you like the paper, and that you wish to see it continue - if they know you are reading and enjoying the Advertiser/News, they'll advertise, and if they advertise, we will be able to continue to bring you comprehensive hometown news coverage. All we ask of you is to support the merchants who support us - it's a good system and it's working.

I want to thank the teachers at Consolidated School who have volunteered to chaperone at the third (and maybe last) annual Halloween program. Their help is greatly appreciated.

It was a bit disappointing to see that only seventeen people turned out for the organizational meeting of Citizens Association for a Safe Halloween (CASH). This program is one that is supposed to be a community effort. Although ideas blossomed and things did get underway, there is a real possibility that without more support, this could be the last year.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the V.F.W. Post on Point Grove Road.

Lakeview Bus Route Changed Again

Superintendent of Schools Louis Josselyn recommended last week that the Lakeview Village bus route be changed again to further insure the safety of the children along the route.

The buses picking up Lakeview Village children will now run south on Point Grove Road, turn around in Connecticut, run back on Point Grove Road to Babb Road, go up Babb Road through Lakeview Village and out again on Point Grove Road.

Josselyn said the first swing on Point Grove Road is to pick up children on first one side and then the other side of the road which would eliminate the danger of children crossing the busy street.

The original route change called for the buses to go directly up Babb Road, through Lakeview Village and down Point Grove Road, but with this route, the youngsters living on the west side of Point Grove Road had to cross the street to board the bus. "This route helped the situation at Lakeview Village, but created another problem on Point Grove Road," Josselyn said. "The new route is designed to pick up students on both sides of Point Grove Road and still pick up the Lakeview Village students within the complex. It seems to have straightened out a lot of the problems."

Josselyn said he would contact the school principals and Safety Officer Robert Laughlin to help reinforce the traffic safety rules through school programs.

In other business, the School Committee postponed a decision on a request by high school teacher Dominick Dieni for a field trip to the State House and other historic sites in the Boston area. Committeewoman Priscilla Deveno said, "I remain opposed to the trip until a specific itinerary is presented."

The committee also discussed the parking problem at the high school. Committeewoman Pauline Fedora noted that when there was a special town meeting and bingo at the school on the same night, cars were parked on both sides of the driveway and an emergency vehicle would not have been able to reach the school. She added that there are often two events going on at the school when athletic events and other activities such as adult education are considered.

Josselyn added that the parking lot is also not adequate for the staff and students during the day and agreed that another parking lot should be considered for the future.

The committee also agreed to commit $1100 to the Lower Pioneer Valley Educational Collaborative to fund the first month of courses offered by the collaborative for Southwick students. Southwick, as well as other towns participating in the program, was asked to commit funds because of a mix-up in the state grant approval. According to Committeeman Jeffrey Youens, the town will be credited for this amount for next year's program.

The committee vote to commit the funds was 3 to 1 with Chairman Kenneth Massey opposing. Massey called the move a "dangerous precedent" and said the collaborative could "end up creating serious revenue problems for the town."

School Committee Releases Tax Information

To the Taxpayers of Southwick:

Your School Committee would like you to be aware of the following information regarding your taxes. As you know the Fiscal Year (FY) 1979 tax rate decreased by $3 per $1000 valuation from FY 1978. However, the school portion of that tax DECREASED $5.16 per $1000, while the general portion INCREASED $2.16 per $1000. You may recall that last year the school portion increased $4.83 per $1000.

Here are the figures for the past five years showing the amount of the school portion and its percentage of the total.

FY 1975 - $27.69 of $35 = 79.1%
FY 1976 - $29.64 of $40 = 74.1%
FY 1977 - $33.21 of $43 = 77.2%
FY 1978 - $33.38 of $48 = 69.5%
FY 1979 - $28.22 of $45 = 62.7%

Looking over the past five years, you can see that the current school portion of the tax rate is only 53¢ per $1000 more than it was in FY 1975. But also note the percentage of the total tax rate: the school portion has dropped 16.4 percentage points! That is a drop of 20.7%. As you can see, the old saying that 80% of our taxes go for education is no longer valid.

Motocross Buffer Zone Still Undecided

The request for a buffer zone between the new Rec. Center building, the American Legion Motocross, and the residents on Powder Mill Road still hangs in limbo. Wayne Simeone of Powder Mill Road and Bernard Yelin, representing the Motocross, met with selectmen recently to determine if a meeting with the board is needed to resolve problems among the group. Planning Board Chairman Donald Desmond acted as mediator.

Simeone said he has been meeting with various departments for the past six months in an attempt to get the problem resolved. He had requested a meeting with selectmen and Motocross and Rec. Center representatives. "Basically, we are asking for a buffer zone between the building and the houses," Simeone said.

Simeone said Yelin has been talking to the nearby residents in an effort to work something out "instead of getting involved in a long drawn-out process." "Mr. Yelin has been circulating a petition asking abutters to the Motocross track to allow the track to run as it is if it is agreed that the officials will take care of the environmental concerns, such as dust, and also to plant trees and increase police protection," Simeone said. He said he still felt a meeting with selectmen was necessary.

"I gave you my word I'd do something," Yelin said. "You either take my word or you don't. I can't control the Rec. Center, but I will speak to them."

Yelin said the Motocross was willing to penetrate the Legion road, plant trees and control dust, but added that to plant trees on the Rec. Center property required their permission.

Selectmen Chairman Nuchi Prifti said that if the problems are not resolved within a two-week period, then a meeting would be called. Prifti said the two weeks would give Yelin time to speak with Rec. Center officials about their involvement in the buffer zone.

Jurors selected for the December 4 Civil and Criminal Court sessions were Elmer T. Johnson, Gail S. Andrews, and Gail J. LaRiviere.

Agawam-Southwick Split Field Hockey Contest 1-1

by Dan Maruszczak Jr.

When two neighboring communities pair up for a Valley Wheel contest, you know that there'll be tough competition. Not only did Agawam and Southwick prove the statement, but they also set field hockey fans on the edge of their seats throughout the contest, which was nerve-wracking to the end.

The result? What one might expect - a tie. The Agawam and Southwick field hockey teams decided to call it quits last week at a 1-1 deadlock, which ruined Southwick's unbeaten record.

Spoiling the Rams' perfect record was Brownie Virginia Cassidy with a late goal in the Looking like a field hockey team, the girls' soccer team finished in a 1-1 deadlock with Classical on Thursday, Oct. 5. The Bulldogs, one of last year's top teams and a contender for this year's Western Mass. crown, have provided tough competition throughout the season with superb defense.

Earlier in the week, Cathedral's super-team pulled a 2-0 triumph over the Brownies, with Eileen Knowlton setting her 11th goal-mark, while Donna Conway provided the other factor for the Agawam defeat.

DiRico Captures Trophy

by Dan Maruszczak Jr.

Dave DiRico has joined the ranks of his brother, Tom, last week as he captured the Dr. Benjamin Hare Trophy in the Western Mass. pro-club champion tournament held at Agawam's Crestview Country Club. DiRico paired with Bruce Martins last Thursday to shoot a seven-under par 65 to top the pack by two shots.

DiRico eagled the second hole while Martins had a trio of birds.

Tom DiRico and Dan DiRico each won the Hare Trophy in 1976 and 1977 respectively, while the latter is presently Hampden CC's house pro.

Behind DiRico and Martins was George Cefaratti and Don Mulvaney of Beaver Brook, who tied for second great concern about the homes which would be effected by the change. However, public interest rekindled in Agawam in 1974 as the town began to feel the impact of increased traffic, Prifti said.

At that time, he said, Southwick reserved judgment as to whether the new route should continue into the town, but the results of an impact study done in 1974-76, convinced the town that the new route was needed, Prifti said.

"We are located within the metropolitan district," Prifti said, "and the growth rate for Southwick and Agawam has been greater than the entire Pioneer Valley." He said the growth rate for Southwick has been about 23 percent and Agawam has been slightly over 38 percent, yet the growth rate for the Pioneer Valley has been only 9.5 percent.

Prifti said the study projected that by the year 2,000, Southwick's population will reach about 15,000, an increase of 42 percent.

"The need for the new route is not in Southwick right at the moment," Prifti said. "The traffic is being handled by the present Route 57, but it should be upgraded." Prifti projected that the present route would be able to handle traffic increases for about the next ten years unless there is a drastic upsurge in development.

"It is inevitable that Southwick will see the continuation of the new Route 57," Prifti said, adding that the Agawam section has recently received approval and construction should begin in 1980. The junction of the old and new routes will be at Provin Mountain at the Southwick-Agawam line.

Prifti has proposed that a growth policy committee, made up of town officials and residents, be formed to discuss growth pattern and direction for the town.

Brownies Squeak By Cathedral 13-7

by Steve Berard

The Brownies chalked up their third victory this season, when they squeaked by Cathedral's Panthers in the games final minutes by a score of 13-7. Agawam's coach and former Agawam player, John Michalak, called it "a great win," and was very happy with the team's all around play.

"I think the kids showed a lot of poise and character, and really came through at the end," said Michalak. Randy Young, who is an option quarterback, played the whole game for Agawam. The Brownies scored first when Young handed off to Mike B'Shara who plunged over the goal line, from the 3, to make the score 6-0. The extra point attempt was wide to the right.

The Panther offense couldn't mount an attack on the Brownied defense, in the duration of the first half. "Our defense was just super. Steve Nielsen was playing outstandingly before he got hurt," Michalak said. Nielsen has a strained knee, but will probably be back next week.

The second half began with Agawam leading 6-0, and the third quarter saw no scoring action until the final minute, when a poor punt enabled Cathedral to have the ball on the Brownie thirty yard line. A few plays later, a panther touchdown tied the game, and the extra point gave them the lead. "It was then that I thought the balloon had popped," Michalak said. "But our guys just never gave up."

It was now the 4th quarter, with six minutes on the clock. Agawam had possession, with half of the field to go for a touchdown.

Quarterback Randy Young kept chipping away for yardage with option plays and handoffs to Dan Beaudette. He moved the ball down to inside the Cathedral 5 yard line. There, the ball was snapped to Young. Young turned and handed it to Mike B'Shara, who with his powerful legs pushed through the goal line ahead and scored the winning touchdown. The extra point was made by Ricky Leclerc, making the final 13-7. This was B'Shara's second TD of the day, and seventh for the year. Mike is among the top three scoring leaders in the conference.

When Coach Michalak was asked what he thought about B'Shara, he replied, "he's a tremendously enthusiastic player. I wish we had ten of him." I'm sure a lot of other coaches would too.

NOTE: The Agawam High School Band, who play at all the varsity football games is having a paper drive from Friday, October 13th thru Sunday, the 15th. Agawam's next game will be at home against Chicopee, so bring all your old newspapers and drop them off at the truck which will be located in the high school parking lot.

Touching All Bases

Mainly for the benefit of our Connecticut readers, the New England Pro Tour of the duckpin tourney season has started as of this past weekend, with the Glastonbury Bowl getting things started for the season.

Leading bowlers from Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island competed this past Saturday and Sunday, with this year's complete schedule ready to be announced in the near future.

At the T-Bowl Lanes in Newington, the annual Class "B" Men's Duckpin Tournament wound up after a two-day affair, but the official results were not known at press time. Men's Class "B" tourneys will be slated for every weekend through June 2-3, 1979, with the exception of the week between Christmas and New Year's.

This Saturday, Oct. 14, the Women's All-Star Association will make its next stop at the Bloomington Bowling Center. Two qualifying rounds have been scheduled: one at noon and another at 3 p.m. On this, the mixed doubles side, the nearest tourney scheduled is the Conn. Mixed Doubles Tournament at the Amity Lanes in Woodbridge, which is also being held this Saturday and Sunday.

Ladies' tournaments open their season the weekend of October 21-22 at the Bridgeport Holy Trinity Lanes. The tourney fee for ladies' competition has been reduced this season to $10 on a decision made by the C.B.O.A. to return the fee to the longstanding price paid during earlier years.

First place finishings in ladies' tourneys pays a purse of $125, while the women's handicap ranges to a 120 maximum.

The Mass Citizens Committee on Striped Bass are very concerned about the decline in the bass population and at their September 28th meeting they took "the bull by the horns" and proposed a management plan that makes common sense. The plan calls for a 24-inch minimum size limit, except in Maryland, where the minimum would be 18 inches allowing the males to spawn at least four times. Size limits presently range from 12" in Maryland to 18" in New Jersey. The larger limit along the coast would allow a female fish to spawn at least once before being caught.

The daily bag limit for recreational fishermen would be four per angler per day. Recreational fishermen who sell their catch would also be allowed four per day per angler. Full-time commercial fishermen would be allowed to take 16 per day.

Recreational fishermen would be required to purchase a $5 striped bass stamp. Recreational fishermen who sell their catch would be required to purchase a $100 stamp, and commercial fishermen would be required to purchase a $400 stamp.

Charter boat operators who do not sell their catch would require a $100 stamp, while those who keep and sell their catch would need a $400 commercial stamp. The charter stamp would cover non-licensed fishermen, thus the occasional fishermen from inland states would not be required to buy a stamp for a day of charter fishing.

While complete details of the allocation of the fees have not been worked out, it is assumed that some would be returned to the states for enforcement. The plan is scheduled to be presented to the Regional Citizens' Committee which meets in Boston on Oct. 27 and 28.

I have to agree with the committee which feels that enough statistics and other evidence is available to warrant conservation measures be adopted now to assure continuation of the fishery until research points the way to a more permanent solution.

Research Center

The 35,000-member National Wild Turkey Federation's Executive Committee recently met to establish a fund-raising campaign to raise $500,000 to construct the nation's first Wild Turkey Research Center. A 6.62 acre site was donated in Edgefield, South Carolina for the project by the Flexoplate Division of Tranter, Inc.

The center will house an aggressive research facility complete with forestry and wildlife management divisions as well as a national wild turkey museum and hall of fame. A second building phase will include a living, outdoor wildlife nature center featuring all species of wild turkey and some related wildlife.

The Federation is now receiving tax-deductible donations from individuals and businesses. Anyone donating $5100 or more will receive a beautiful wildlife print by noted artist Larry Toschik. Donations should be addressed to Wild Turkey Research Center, P.O. Box 467, Edgefield, SC 29824.

Kringle Retires

Best wishes go out to Frank Kringle, 75, of Crestview Country Club, who recently retired as a house pro after many years of service at the club. Replacing Kringle as pro will be his son Fran, 29. Good luck to both father and son, each of whom is expanding to new horizons.

Athletic Association Adopts Changes

At the Agawam Athletic Association's basketball-swimming registration session on September 23rd, a questionnaire was passed out to parents who registered their children. One hundred and fifty-seven of these parents took advantage of the questionnaire, whose purpose it was to solicit opinions of those involved in the Association through their children. This was the second such survey, the other being taken earlier this year. Several questions were asked and suggestions or criticisms were welcomed.

One of the questions asked the individual to evaluate the Association's performance of its functions on a scale of from one to ten. The results were as follows: two persons rated the AAA a '3', one rated them as a '4', three as a '5', fifteen a '7', thirty-five an '8', thirty a '9', and seventy-one a '10'. One hundred thirty-six of the 157 rated the Association as 'good' to 'excellent', 15 rated them as 'fair', and 6 rated them as 'poor'. The Association is very proud of this kind of parent response and they are again thankful that their efforts have met with the approval of the townspeople.

Two changes are being made in the AAA rules: as a result of the earlier questionnaire, it is now mandatory for every child to play in every game; the second change, a result of the questionnaire of 9/23/78, is that all 6-7 certificates will be presented to the children by their coaches after the final game of the season, rather than at a 'Sports Night'.

Any children who were eligible for certificates in 1978 but did not receive them may obtain them by calling Jerry Mason at 786-5624.

Southwick Rams Beat Smith 1-0

by Dan Maruszek

The Southwick Rams slammed the door on Smith School's offensive drive in time enough to post a 1-0 overtime victory in varsity soccer action last Tuesday. Ram Glenn McNeil added that extra touch in overtime to add his 13th goal and a Southwick victory to his long list of soccer achievements. McNeil's tally came one minute into the overtime period.

Southwick's net-minded Ron Hall kept the Ram goal clean as the Southwick squad went on to win its sixth game in seven outings.

Suffield Academy Downs Salisbury 37-6 In Opener

by Dan Maruszczak

Suffield Academy started out its grid season last week on the right foot, downing Salisbury 37-6 in prep school football action. Senior Ken Watson tallied up a total of 236 yards on 20 carries to lead Suffield into the winner's circle. Besides pacing the Academy with awesome carries, Watson went in for three TD's, with runs of 28, 70, and 60 yards.

The senior halfback powered Suffield to the final triumph, while the contest marked the season opener for the Academy as well as Salisbury.

In other major neighboring action, Conard topped Enfield, 29-14, and Enrico Fermi of Enfield edged Hall of West Hartford, 35-22. In the Enfield-Conard contest, Dave Johnson and Jim Adams each scored from the 1 in the first half. Mike Jones and John Thompson added the finishing touches in the second half, running from the 3 and the 19 to put the grudge match away for Conard. Mike Haeflich kicked three extra points for the Conard side.

Enfield QB Jay Wheeler completed to Rick Downes over 73 yards for Enfield's second TD of the day. Enfield's first came in the second period when Courtney McLaughlin ran it in from the four.

Enfield presently stands at 0-2-0-3, while Conard secured its second victory in as many starts.

In the Fermi-West Hartford match-up, Fermi's Steve Provencher provided the final motivation, as the senior halfback reached West Hartford's end zone five times before the end of the contest.

Provencher caught a 35-yard slip and a two-point conversion from Fermi QB Ron Flaherty, then returned a 75-yard kickoff which was lateraled from Jim Spencer. Besides those two tallies, Provencher then went in successfully from the 12, 11, and 20-yard lines. In Fermi's romp over Hall, Provencher gained a total of 287 yards.

On the Hall side, W. Hartford got its tallies from Mark Shapiro, Dan Barwald, and an 18-yard completion from quarterback Jeff McLucas to Ray Philippon.

Fermi now stands at 1-1, 1-2, while Hall is at 0-2, 0-3.

Suffield Academy got their act together last week as the Academy ripped Kingwood 4-0. Hugh Rice connected for two tallies, while Brad Stevens and Mohammed Kafai each settled for one apiece.

In another prep contest, Avon downed Salisbury 2-0.

Agawam Girl's Soccer Team Strong, But Downed By Cathedral

by Joanne Anderson

Early in the week, the Townsend, had a challenging Agawam girls soccer team, led game against one of the by Barbara Stevens and leaders of the Valley Wheel assistant coach from league, Cathedral High Springfield College Maureen School.

In the first half, both Agawam and Cathedral played strong defense. Agawam's starting defense was led by Lee Harvey, Joanne Hart, Lisa Impoco, Michele Korob, Lori Harvey, Laurel Masi, and Karen Barr. The strong goalie for Agawam is Sharon Balderelli.

Later in the second quarter, the offensive line tried to make a couple of good breaks, but Cathedral goalie always seemed to have her hands on it.

The starting offensive line consists of Donna Regnier, Lori Woodruff, Susan Conroy, Kathy Chase, Joanne Anderson, and Laura Gendron.

There was much support from the bench including Laurie Placanico, Kathy Foley, Margaret Stoneburg, Joanne Dobek, Jeri Sullivan, Sandy Teal, and Lori Russo.

Cathedral's line had a few good breaks and got one goal in the third quarter and a second one in the fourth quarter.

Agawam's Coach Stevens commented on how much better their traps, passes, communication, and aggressiveness are working. Cathedral also commented that they haven't played a tougher game yet this year.

Going into the second round of competition, the Agawam girls would like your support to insure the confidence of the team.

Spotlight on Business

Agawam TV Service

Agawam TV Service has expanded its operation. Dave MacWilliams, proprietor, commented that the expansion will allow him to better service his existing, as well as new clients. The move from 762 Springfield St. next door to 760 Springfield St., even though a short distance, has substantially increased the retail and service areas. Agawam TV Service has been in business over 14 months and is a RCA dealer representative.

Dave and his wife Deborah, a nurse at Springfield Hospital, reside in Feeding Hills with their three children Sheryl (7), Heidi (5) and Daniel (2).

Jeff Allen Delicacies

Bob Touchette

Bob Touchette, owner and operator of Jeff Allen's Delicacies on Springfield Street in Agawam, is a twenty three year old Agawam man who began his food service career at the age of 12 when he used to work for his father's catering service.

Now a gourmet chef, Bob has several years of experience behind him. Bob prepares everything from the simplest (but delicious) grinder to Veal Cordon Bleu and Shrimp Scampi.

Bob does all of his own cooking, and claims to have one of the best batters for fried fish to ever hit Agawam. Included on his varied menu is his own homemade cheese-cake and apple pie.

The restaurant is small, but comfortable, and you can feast of a large meal, or nibble on a light salad. All food is the freshest possible, and every meal is prepared to order. You can sit and relax and enjoy a leisurely lunch or dinner, or you can call ahead for take-out service.

Whatever your taste in food you're sure to like Jeff Allen's (named after Bob's young brother). The food is good, the atmosphere relaxed and the service excellent - staffed by members of the Touchette family.

Stop in and sample some of Bob's home cooking - you'll find yourself returning there time and again.

Down to Earth

by Janet Cook

The one question most asked of me seems to be about a house plant called "spider plant" or Chlorophytum Comosum Vittatum. The mystery of the spiderless spider plant seems to bother almost everyone sooner or later. If you own one of these plants and do not seem to be able to come to terms with it, there is hope. The spiders are on their way. If the plant is fed about once a month, kept moist, and gets bright light, spiders will follow. They form when the days are short; in fact, they do their best with only 8 hours of daylight, so you'll have spidery spider plants beginning this fall. By keeping this plant on the moist side, you will be able to control the brown tips that appear on the leaves. These plants drink a lot.

Do you have an old, tired potted geranium that has sen its best days? The best way to perpetuate a geranium is by taking cuttings. If you are determined to save the entire plant, the old-fashioned way may work. Knock the plant out of the pot and remove all the soil from the roots. Then pick off all the leaves so that nothing remains but bare roots and stems, and then hang the plant upside down in a cool, humid room with good ventilation. A cellar is usually good. Next March bring it back up and repot it. It will grow, but slowly. The best way really is to take those cuttings now and grow them through the winter for next spring. If you want to keep your favorite Fuchsia around for next spring, take steps now to preserve it. First, take several cuttings, two inches long or so, from the tips of the branches. Then go to work on the plant itself. Cut off most of the old stems, leaving 2 or 3 inches of brown branches. If there is more than one plant in the pot, separate these and repot each one separately. Let these grow over the winter in bright light and keep them moist. Next spring you should have plenty of Fuchsia to decorate your porch or patio.

To harvest sunflower seeds, wait until the seeds are fully grown and firm. Cut the head off, leaving about a foot of stem. Hang it in a dry, airy spot to finish ripening. Don't stack the heads in a box or they will rot. To help keep the birds away before harvest, cover the seed heads with cheesecloth.

NEXT WEEK: Tuberous begonias, rhubarb, and more. KEEP SMILING! JMC

Soccer Team Loses To Tech 1-0

by Dan Maruszczak

Tiger Steve Gogon's debut in the net provided the needed support for Tech to blank Agawam in a varsity soccer contest 1-0. Tech's big gun, Mark Whittemore, came through with the winning tally that posted the victory for the defense-minded Tech Tigers.
